

Allison Kelley
Owner and Artistic Director
Shoestrings Studio

A dream since the age of 6, Allison opened Shoestrings Studio in Hanover after graduating college 22 years ago. Allison prides herself in making Shoestrings an inclusive environment where every student can develop at their own pace.

Allison provides professional dance training in an atmosphere where students can enjoy themselves while learning, knowing that individual attention is vital to help each child reach his or her full potential. She has developed a teaching technique to best emphasize a student's strengths while working toward the elimination of weaknesses, helping students not only to grow in the technical aspect of dance but also to explore the field of dance as an art form and develop a love of dance that will last a lifetime.

Additionally, Allison is an ABA Tutor at Hanover Middle School, working in the life skills room helping special needs students in their day to day activities. She is a mom of two beautiful girls and a wife to her high school sweetheart.
