

Ethan Schnabel
School Resource Officer/Patrolman
Town of Rockland

Ethan has been a Police Officer for the Town of Rockland since 2005. In 2016, he was assigned as the School Resource Officer (SRO) for the Rockland Police Department, tasked with the safety and security of the public schools in Rockland, as well as a small collaborative school.

Since taking on the role of SRO, Ethan has worked with the school district to implement ALICE Training, routinely running drills and extensive and intense training with the school faculty and staff. Ethan is based in Rockland High School's Guidance Department. He has worked hard to build relationships, working with students on a Mock Car Crash to educate them on the dangers and repercussions of drunk/drugged driving and meeting weekly with freshman for "Bagels with Schnabel" or afternoon "Pizza with the Po-Po."

The Rockland community has been heavily affected by the opioid epidemic, and Ethan is also part of the "Senior Issues" program, having guest speakers talk with graduating seniors about addiction and life skills.

Ethan is a volunteer soccer coach for both of his daughters' teams and also coaches his older daughter's basketball team.
